“ Doyle and I have known Roy and Joanne for thirty-four years. They have consistently been kind, hard working and faithful to Jesus. We know that Roy's suffering is past and Heaven is his new home. We pray for Joanne, that she heals quickly and is soon home with her family. To be ripped apart like this is particularly painful and we send prayers for all the family and dear friends who also suffer at this time. We send our love, Doyle and Cathy Gross

“ I have fond memories of my Uncle Roy over the early years of my life, but especially when the relatives would gather for a yearly family reunion out towards Chambersburg PA (Black's Creek or something). I remember that for years we would grease a watermelon with Vaseline and then mostly the men in swim suits would enter a creek near the Park and wrestle with each other to be the first to retrieve the watermelon from the creek. It would soon be in pieces as we fought over possessing it and carrying it out of the creek to the bank to win. The one who did got a prize (I believe another whole good watermelon). Uncle Roy would always make sure everyone played fair and he was very protective of us young lads while wrestling in the creek, still that didn't keep him from competing to retrieve the melon too. There are other notable fond memories, but this one is rather anecdotal in how I remember his character, determination and sense of fair play. Blessings to the family, and praying for Aunt Joanne's recovery, and the family as they mourn. Cousin Jay K. Hollinshead.
